Agri-Business

Graduates of the Agri - Business programs become associated with both the business of Agriculture and the Agricultural distribution and agricultural service industries. The specialized training prepars students to understand and better manage agricultural projects.

Business Education

The Business Education Division at Western Wisconsin Technical Institute offer two-year associate degree programs in accounting, data-processing, and secretarial science–administrative, legal, or medical.

One-year vocational programs in business machines, clerk-typist, and data-processing machine operator are available to students interested in this endeavor of work.

Secretaral science students are placed on an extended laboratory situation for a period of three weeks at the close of the second year.

The Business Education Division comprises some 35% of the student population.

Health Occupations

The rapid advances in medical technology coupled with the expansion of communication media has motivated the Dental, Medical, and Nursing Professions to support and promote the concept of the "health team". No longer can the dentist, physician, and nurse alone meet the health needs of the people. Only through coordinated and cooperative team effort may the people receive the best health care available. Never before has there been such opportunities for careers in health occupations on a vocational, technical, and professional level.

Accounting Club

The Western Wisconsin Technical Institute Accounting Club was organized in 1967. It is composed of both first and second year students.

The main purpose of the club is to provide and encourage communications between our club and the business community. At various times during the year, business employees have come with modern accounting procedures and practices used in their firms.

The club encourages its members in the development of the accounting vocation. The constitution of our club also states that we try to strengthen the confidence of young men and women in themselves and their chosen profession.

ACRO Club

The purpose of this organization is to further the knowledge of the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration students at Western Wisconsin Technical Institute.

Field trips, such as the ones to; Trane Company, La Crosse Cooler Company, and to several Super markets in the Winona area, have alerted the students to the broad field of Air Conditioning and Refrigeration. These field trips have also shown the students the many job opportunities in their specific field.

Individual speakers at monthly meetings have also contributed to the knowledge of A. C. R. O. members.

The club serves as a link between current members and individuals who have graduated and are working in industry. It establishes a working relationship between 1st and 2nd year students within the Agri-Business division, and encourages improvement of the agricultural technology course at school. We strive to inform the student body of the activities attended by agri-business members, such as meetings on local level and conferences sponsored by the University of Wiscoferences and learning about caues for pollution and how to protect our environment against these elements.

Social activities involved a fall picnic and football game at Houska Park. A basketball game was played at the new Y.M.C.A. and a spring softball game at La Cresent.

Club officers are John Corcoran, President; George Smerud, Vice President; Dave Pfaff, Treasurer; and Howard Tracey, Sergeant-at-Arms.

American Institute of Drafting Design

The primary purpose of the Student Chapters is to help students to prepare for a career in design and drafting and to provide better communications between student, faculty and industry.

To improve the science of graphic communications.

To encourage a continued program of education in the performance and management of design-drafting activities.

To provide consultation and evaluation for upgrading design-drafting curriculum in educational institutes.

To provide guidance to students seeking a career in design-drafting.

To foster a pride in the profession.

Tau Iota Upsilon

Tau Iota Upsilon is a service fraternity whose purpose is to serve the needs of its members, Western Wisconsin Technical Institute, and the community at large. Membership is open to all male full-time students at the Institute and is not restricted by race, creed, or color. It is intended to develop a fraternal spirit and a sense of social and civic responsibility. During the school year Tau Iota Upsilon sponsored an all-school dance, a candidate for Sweetheart Queen, a clothing drive for needy persons, participated in the Spring Fling, and helped raise funds to send the LaCrosse State University band to the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, California.

Tau Iota Upsilon is the largest and fastest growing fraternity at the Institute. Its members look forward, both as students and as citizens, to continued service to the school and the community.

Delta Gamma Phi

Delta Gamma Phi Sorority functions as a service and social organization. Eighteen girls were pledged during the year.

This year a real attempt was made to build up the sorority's treasury, so that additional projects can be undertaken in future years.

The Deltas sponsored a Pandora box sale and a Christmas dance in December. For the Sweetheart dance, Kathy Vieth was chosen as queen candidate. St. Patrick's Day was the night of the annual formal dinner held at the Commodore Club to which each member invited an escort. For Homecoming, Debbie Oestrich was chosen candidate and served on the court. Service activities included ushering for the Community Theater and for the school dedication.

DECA

The Distributive Education Club of America is the only youth organization for persons interested in the field of marketing and distribution. To be eligible for membership, the student must be enrolled in the marketing curriculum. While D.E.C.A. serves the dual purpose of a social and professional organization, that main purposes are to develop leadership, individual responsibility, citizenship, and an understanding and appreciation of the free and competitive enterprise system.

WBEC

Competition is the key to the club's existence but social functions and a feeling of service do have a place in this group. At the American Baptist Assembly in Green Lake club members vie for top honors in competitive events with students from technical and vocational schools all over the state. The winners of the state contests then compete at the Dallas-Fort Worth convention this year for national honors.

Data Processing

The two year Business Data Processing curriculum is designed to train students for employment as Junior Programmers. Emphasis is placed on the standardized languages of COBOL and FORTRAN, as well as an assembly language. Almost two years of mathematics and statistics are included in the training period which provides a problem background to enable the student to meet more technical needs of industry.

The one year Computer Operator program offers training in operations and some programming techniques. Job opportunities are in such areas as computer operators, tape handlers, bursting machine operators, etc. Key punch training is available as a supplement to whatever program the student is enrolled in.

Training in FORTRAN is also available to Trades and Industry students who will solve practical problems provided by their own instructors.

STUDENT CONGRESS

Student Congress is the governmental organization for and by the students at W. W. T. I. The membership consists of 4 members and 4 officers elected at large and one member from each active organization. This legislative body governs the lives of the students including the social, recreational and cultural aspects of the institute.

This year was a very challenging year with many new innovations. New policies regarding the bookstore, student union and dress code were acted upon. The Student Congress played an important role in the formation of a state wide student government organization. An office for student government was a reality with the opening of the new building.

The student newspaper, "Cavalier Clippings" is published once a week to inform students and faculty of newsworthy information regarding W. W. T. I. and other feature articles. Cavalier Clippings is the voice of the students. Many improvements have been made this last year in publishing the paper. Students from many programs take part in making the paper possible. The editor and the staff have a large responsibility to the school.

Publications class prepares layouts and paste-ups for yearbook.
